ArTea Party will make its debut UK appearance in London's Wandsworth over Fairtrade Fortnight 2009. In the sumptuous setting of The County Arms' conservatory, guests will enjoy delectable Fairtrade refreshments whilst browsing equally tempting local art & craft.

Canvases, photographic prints, greeting cards, jewellery and fashion accessories will be exhibited for sale at this one day Fairtrade fundraising event. Amidst the profusion of art, craft, tea and cake there will also be some great eco prizes to be won!

Hosted by bluAngeldesigns in conjunction with the Wandsworth Fairtrade Campaign Group (WFTC), ArTea Party II promises to be a fabulous event for everyone to enjoy.

ArTea Party II Aims:

To promote and support Sustainable & Ethical practice within the Arts

To raise awareness of Eco, particularly Fairtrade products and increase Fairtrade consumerism

To raise funds in support of the Wandsworth Fairtrade Campaign Group bluAngeldesigns is an art & design organisation dedicated to producing and supporting art of an ethical and sustainable nature. Directed by Racheblue, bluAngeldesigns involves personal exhibitions, freelance design and other projects such as ArTea. This party is the second event of the fundraising exhibition project which Racheblue began in Auckland, New Zealand.

WFTC is a group of residents and organisations striving to obtain Fairtrade certification for the borough of Wandsworth. London is currently the world's largest Fairtrade City with 20 boroughs already having achieved the status. WFTC hope to add Wandsworth to this number.
